LEI Medical Celebrates Outstanding Safety Record

- Veterinary medical equipment company LEI Medical boasts an 18-year record of outstanding safety history -

Portland, Oregon, Sept. 28, 2011 – LEI Medical is celebrating its 18-year record of outstanding safety history. Founded in 1993, LEI Medical has consistently improved the safety and quality of veterinary medical equipment, boasting an exceptional record for both manufacturing and end uses of LEI products.

CEO and Founder of LEI Medical Brian Lawson credits the companies success and continued growth to the dedication of its exceptional engineering. The company is devoted to providing high quality equipment exclusively for the veterinary industry.

LEI designs and manufactures high-quality, precision anesthesia machines (stand, wall mounts, tabletops), vaporizers, medical gas, suction and oxygen delivery products.

“We all take our work very seriously,” says Lawson. “Not only do we want the equipment to be safe for the animals, but we want the veterinarians to know that they can count on our equipment to perform for years without incident.”

LEI Medical recently expanded its capabilities with a new, leading edge facility where Lawson and his team are working diligently on innovative technology that they hope to unveil in the near future. The new space has allowed for greater research, engineering, design testing, fulfillment, and customer service. Products from LEI are 100% American made.

“The future is wide-open for us right now,” says Lawson. “We have some products in the works that are true game-changers. I’m excited for what the coming months hold.”
